E. P. Sharp,

Principal

G. L. Small,

Director of Vocational Education

On behalf of the faculty and ourselves, we would like to offer our congratulations and sincere wishes for success to the graduating class of 1957. We hope your studies at Trott have been profitable and that you leave with the belief that we have done all in our power to prepare you for the vocation you have chosen. We know that you will try to live up to our great expectations. May God speed you on your way and richly reward your efforts.

Another year, another semester, another senior class; sophomores became juniors, juniors became seniors, and the seniors; well, they have gone out into the world to make their mark, while leaving many pleasant memories. These are some of the memories we, the class of '57, will hold.

In September, Trott got off to a flying start. The football season began, cheerleaders were having try-outs and senior class nominations were made.

Our football season was not too successful, though the team showed great spirit. We lost all our games but Dave Booth, our halfback, made the all city football team.

Moans and groans would often be heard coming from the gym after school. If it was not indoor practice for the football team, the cheerleaders were having try-outs. Barbara Garrecht and Selma Rizzio somehow survived and joined the squad of co-captains Joyce Mong and Lorelei Ehrhard, cheerleaders Nancy Metzler, Judy Simpson, Nina Fratello, Carol Kramarz, and Mary Yelder. Mrs. Ebert, the girls' new gym teacher, was their adviser.

Nominations for senior class officers and adviser were also made in September. Those elected were Michael Balassone, president, Robert Sherry, vice president, Curtis Harris, treasurer, and Joyce Mong, secretary. Elected adviser was Mr. Bernard Check.

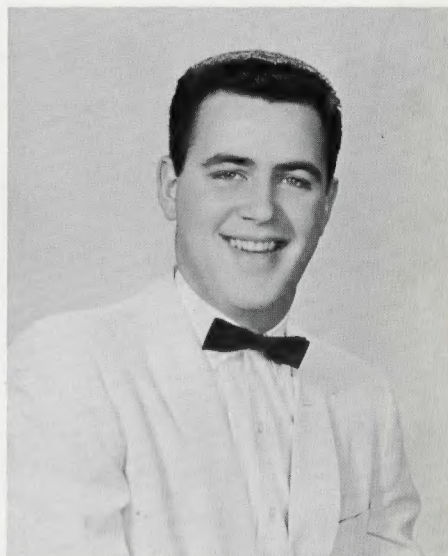

The school paper, Trott Topics, and the Camera Club were both re-organized under the supervision of Mr. Toole. Co-editors of the Trott Topics were Sylvia Curtis and Louise Higgs; sports editor was William Trump. Members of the staff included Richard Guzdek, Leonard Rinallo, Lorelei Ehrhard, Joyce Perman, Nina Fratello, William Storr, Judy Conte, Michael Balassone and David Booth.

Trott Topics Pictorial appeared during the second semester under the supervision of Beverly Washington, Nina Fratello, Shelia Hennegan and Carol Kramarz. It supplemented and then replaced the defunct Trott Topics.

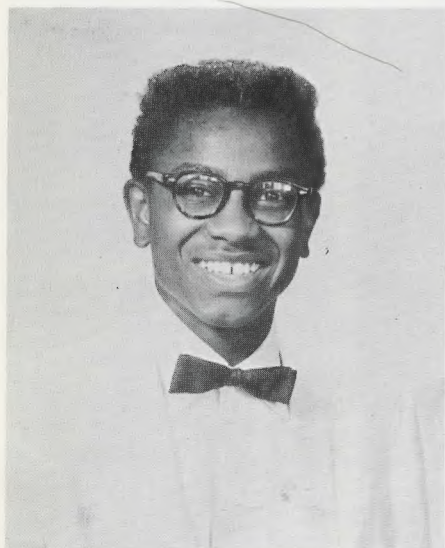

The Camera Club was a bigger success than ever, thanks to equipment donations from the Niagara Falls Gazette and the industry of the carpentry and millwright shops. The dark room was remodeled, more fully equipped, and many more students took advantage of its facilities.

The first big event of the year to be given at Trott was the Halloween dance given by the senior class. Chairmen of the dance were the class officers. The gym was all "decked out" in tombstones, goblins, cornstalks, and pumpkins that really set the mood.

This very successful dance was followed by a variety show and jam-session given by the yearbook staff for the yearbook. This show was open to the public and Trott proved to the outsiders that it had no lack of talent.

In November, as Coach Matt Mazza was picking a new basketball team for Trott, the cheerleaders decided to have new uniforms to go along with the team. They had one problem---where to get the money. Since both the senior class and the student council also needed funds, the three organizations decided to sell refreshments at the home games and split the receipts three ways. The idea clicked; the student council and senior class had a few more dollars in their respective treasuries and the cheerleaders got the uniforms they had hoped for, white skirts, red sweaters, and white collars, Trott's colors.

Many a night after school in December, a voice, far from being soft, could be heard yelling "Mother, Mother." This was not a poor helpless boy yelling for help, but the voice of Mike Balassone re-hearsing for the Christmas play "Too Much Mistletoe." This play, under the supervision of Mr. John Kovach, was presented to the student body during the Christmas assembly. The cast included Mike Balassone, Robert Sherry, Sylvia Curtis, Nina Fratello, Nancy Metzler, Hannelore Froescher, Ronald Goulah, Tom Jackowski, and Sue Santersero. At the end of the play the cast presented Mr. Kovach with a gift which was a five foot-long striped tie.

Preceding the play Mr. Toole read from Dickens and the chorus sang many favorite Christmas carols. Following the assembly the usual Christmas parties were given in the shops and classrooms.

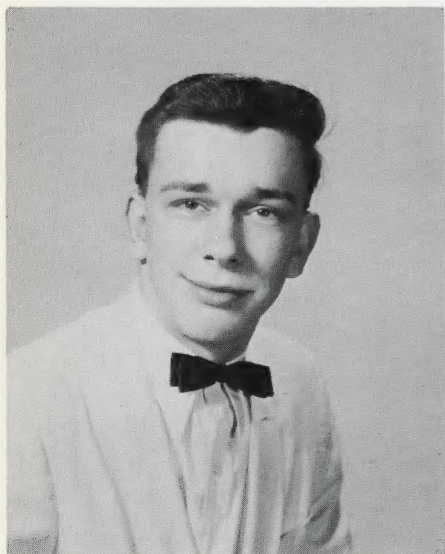

In February the annual Valentine dance was held. As hearts and cupids bobbed along the gym, Karen Zankowski was chosen the "Queen of Hearts." Co-chairmen of this dance, which was sponsored by the student council, were Joyce Perman and Ricky Calandrelli.

Once again Trott was well represented on the air in news, sports, and talent on WJLL. Representing Trott on Pepsi-Teen Time were Sylvia Curtis, Joyce Perman, Dean Honadle, and Nancy Metzler. This year the Pepsi-Cola Company decided to have a contest in which all schools and organizations of Niagara County would participate. The school or organization to acquire the largest number of Pepsi-Cola bottle caps by April 26 would receive a free television set. On April 1st Trott was leading with 35,000 bottle caps; probable total at the end of the contest: in excess of 50,000 bottle caps.

The Student Council with President Dave Booth, Vice-President John Williams, Secretary Judy Simpson, Treasurer Jimmy Jones, and Advisor Mr. Hudspith decided to buy trophies for the winners of intramural sporting events and pins for the students who have perfect attendance. The trophies and pins will be given to the winning students during the honor assembly in June. To raise money for this project the Student Council sponsored a well-attended movie in January for the student body. The Council also co-sponsored the Valentine Day dance with the senior class as another fund raising project.

In the realm of sports, the picture was not too bright; we lost all our football games but we were never shut out. The backfield shone but the line was weak. Dave Booth, our capable captain, was the outstanding player on the team. Willie Jones and Pat Johnson displayed great running ability. Our offensive team displayed its strength in tallying up the highest scores made during the past six or seven years, while our defensive team revealed its weakness in accounting for the greatest number of points scored against us in the same period. The 1957 team should be the best in the history of the school with the number of experienced men returning to the squad.

Though the record left by last year's sectional award winning basketball team proved to be too high a goal to reach this year, the squad won five of their fourteen games. For a team which lacked both experience and height this record was commendable; the important denominator - an old pro, Matt Mazza, who became basketball coach after Mr. Krum transferred to LaSalle.

After a slow start during the first half of the games Trott bounced back to win when the students returned from the Christmas vacation.

March saw plans being made for Trott's first senior class day in many years. The day will start with a breakfast for the seniors in the cafeteria followed by an assembly given by the seniors for the student body. During the day many of the seniors will play the role of teachers as they lead their classes through their paces. In the evening a senior class banquet will be held followed by a dance for seniors and their dates only. Chairmen of the various committees for the Senior Class Day are: Robert D'Aloise, Elections; John Filer, Gifts; James Pino, Decorations; Leonard Rin-allo, History, Prophecy, Will and Testament; William Clark, Senior Play; William Trump, Finance; Richard Jones, Breakfast; Judy Conte, Senior Teachers; and Michael Balassone, Banquet.

In a questionnaire circulated to the members of the senior class in March, nominees for the Prom Queen, Most Popular Girl and Boy, Most Likely to Succeed, etc. were made. As a result Judy Simpson will reign as Queen of the Prom; Nancy Metzler was selected as the Most Popular Girl; David Booth, the Most Popular Boy; Curtis Harris, the Most Athletic Senior; Mike Balassone, the Senior Most Likely to Succeed; David Masterman, the Most Handsome Boy; pink and black and the rose were chosen as the class colors and flower respectively.

Do you remember . . . . ?

Throughout the year many well attended dances were held in the gym under the supervision of Mr. Check, who, with his wife above, plays peek-a-boo with Halloween co-chairman Joyce Mong. Mary Yelder does a tricky shuffle at the same dance while Mr. and Mrs. Layo pose at the Valentine dance for the cameraman. Kathy Potter, Bob D'Aloise, Larry Langden and Pat Lockmiller sit one out below, as Queen Karen Zankowski holds court on her Valentine throne. Co-chairmen Joyce Perman and Richard Calendrelli crowned Karen after a committee of students selected her from the girls who were attending the dance.
